

BOND COMMISSIONERS PLAN TO PROPOSE BY CHARLES SMITH

Councilman Believes This Would Be Acceptable to People and That Issue for City Improvements Would Carry.

WILL PREPARE REPORT AT TODAY'S MEETING

$375,000 for Grady Hospital, and New Schools and Repairs on Others to Be Recommended.

Sensing the hostility of many voters toward a bond issue under the present administration, Councilman Charles W. Smith has worked out a plan for creating a bond commission of five members which he says will solve the problem and prove satisfactory to every interest in the city.

The mayor and members of council are agreed that the necessary funds for school and hospital improvements cannot be taken from the city's normal revenue and that the only resource is through a bond issue. Some members of council have openly opposed a bond issue under the present administration and the general sentiment is against them if they are to be expended by general council.

Prepare Report Today.
At a special meeting this afternoon of the bond commission, of which Alderman Albert Thomson is chairman, the report of the school improvement committee and the special hospital committee will be considered, with a view to reporting a general council at a special session Monday. It is proposed to ask council to call a bond election.

Councilman Smith stated Wednesday that he understood the opposition to bonds and believed that he had evolved a plan that would be acceptable and would mean that the bonds would be carried.

He proposes to create a bond commission of fifteen members, three to be chosen from general council members, three by the three local newspapers from their own ranks, two from the Atlanta Federation of Trades and Laborers and two from the chamber of commerce, the Retail Merchants' association and other similar business bodies.

"Every department of business will be represented in this measure," said Councilman Smith. "It is certain to give us a more representative commission than could be gotten together by any other method and no interest or faction would have cause to complain."

The special school probe committee has recommended the erection of a dozen new buildings and extensive improvements on as many more. This report was completed after a survey of all the schools.

Hospital Investigation.
Councilman J. L. McCord and Dr. C. C. White, members of a special subcommittee of the general bond committee, have spent five weeks investigating the Grady hospital and its needs and will ask the bond commission to include in its recommendation to council an item of $375,000 for the hospital.

They recommend that the fund be apportioned as follows:
For a new building for white patients, based on the building erected in 1911, $100,000.
For a new building for negro patients, estimated cost $75,000.
For a nurses' dormitory, based on bids as per plans and specifications, $60,000.

For the purchase of a lot additional to property already owned, $12,000.
For installing laundry in building now used for nurses' dormitory, for new machinery for laundry, boiler room equipment and kitchen, $25,000.
For outdoor clinics, $25,000.
For inclosing all grounds of the hospital, $2,000.

For Contagious Diseases.
For new building for treating contagious diseases, furnished and equipped building, operating room and instruments, $50,000.
The subcommittee will also recommend the arranging of a section of pay wards in the proposed new building. They claim that these wards would yield sufficient revenue to pay the interest on the bonds. The promoters of each of these routes have filed with the commissioners a vast amount of data for which the commission had asked, and practically every one of these routes will have delegations from Chattanooga to appear before the commissioners and speak in behalf of their individual routes.

Commissioners Meet in Chattanooga Today to Select Dixie Highway Route

Various routes, which are seeking the Dixie Highway. Every one of the different sections traversed by the heavy lines in the above map will have representatives present at the Chattanooga meeting to present their claims for the great north and south highway.

All roads today lead to Chattanooga. The Dixie highway commissioners will meet for the purpose of deciding upon the route of the greatest highway which has ever traversed this section of the country.

The commissioners arrived in Chattanooga last night. All day Wednesday tremendous delegations from all sections through which the proposed highway will pass, between Miami and Chicago, were arriving. Some delegations, it is estimated, will have as many as 1,000 members to boost for their particular route. Whole towns in Georgia and Tennessee are shutting up their places of business and migrating to Chattanooga. The north is equally as interested.

Best Route for Highway.
It will be the business of the highway commissioners Thursday and at least one or two days thereafter to select the best route for the highway. The commission meets at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Some idea of the tremendous interest which centers in the selection of this route may be gained from the statement of the number of proposed routes which will be presented for the consideration of the commissioners. There are several fixed points in the route over which there is no contest. These are Chicago, St. Louis, Nashville, Atlanta, Miami, Jacksonville and Miami. But between every one of these points, with the exception of the section between Jacksonville and Miami, there are anywhere from two to a half dozen proposed routes. The number of such proposed routes is more than 100. The promoters of each one of these routes have filed with the commissioners a vast amount of data for which the commission had asked, and practically every one of these routes will have delegations from Chattanooga to appear before the commissioners and speak in behalf of their individual routes.

Large German Ship Will Be Seized; War Policy Has Been Decided; Austria Will Be Assailed To Strike

President Wilson Will Not Allow Issue to Be Complicated by Complaints About Britain's Detention of Cargoes.

LIVES ARE ENDANGERED BY GERMANY'S CONDUCT

While Only Questions of Property Are Involved by British Action—American-German Controversy Necessitates Prompt Understanding.

Washington, May 19.—President Wilson will wait a reply from Germany to the recent American note before making further representations to the allies on alleged violations of international law in their commercial embargo on Germany.

This was made clear today with the explanation that data concerning detentions of American cargoes had not been completed, and that, moreover, the notes under preparation would not be sent now in any event because President Wilson was unwilling to have the situation with Germany complicated by the American government's correspondence with Great Britain.

Position of President.
It is understood the president's position is that the case of the United States as set forth in its note to Germany should be disposed of irrespective of any contemplation of war with regard to the allies. The idea prevailing in some quarters that representations to the allies might influence the character of the German reply is not shared, it is said, by the president, who is understood to hold that the German government naturally should have confidence that the United States would do its utmost to safeguard its rights in all cases.

The controversy between the United States and Germany, it was pointed out, involves the safety of the lives of American citizens at sea and necessitates a prompt understanding. Questions of property raised by the issue over contraband as between the United States and Great Britain are matters to be collected data and no lives are endangered by delay.

Secretary Bryan today that the "immediate answer" was expected from Germany to the note at Amsterdam. The German government is occupied just now with the Austro-Italian crisis, and must wait its reply to the note until several days of preparation.

Misapprehension Cleared.
Governments cleared up a misapprehension that has existed in many quarters as to the extent to which the American note entails upon a restriction of the activities of the German submarines. The idea that a complete abandonment of the submarine as a commerce destroyer is asked for is entirely incorrect, it was stated. The United States pointed out its objection generally to the present method of conducting submarine warfare and the difficulties of exercising visit and search, but officials explain that the legal rights of the United States only extend to the safety of Americans on board of merchant ships.

Many returns to the practice of torpedoing merchantmen after giving them warning and time to save all members of the crew, ground for objection here, it is admitted, would be for the most part removed. Prior to the sinking of the Leona, C. Thresher, when the British submarine U-20 was torpedoed on May 25, no American lives were lost and the German submarine commander, scores of ships were destroyed.

Germany Still Using Submarine.
Reports that Germany had decided to suspend submarine attacks on merchant ships were not confirmed today, either the German or American embassies in London. The German government, it was stated, had decided to suspend attacks on merchant ships only in the event of a general suspension of attacks on the part of the British.

Fighting continues without intermission along a 200-mile battle front in Galicia, from the mouth of the San to the Carpathian foothills; second, from Przemyśl north to the mouth of the Wisloka; third, from the Wisloka to Sandarmir in Russian Poland, 57 miles southeast of Radom.

In the first section the German advance has not developed beyond the stage of patrols and scouting parties. In the second section there are large opposing forces and the fighting is continuing in hand-to-hand encounters by the wide sweep of the San, from the mouth of the Wisloka to the Carpathians, the heaviest German forces evidently have been concentrated in the third section in an attempt to reach a Russian flank on the San. Such a move is considered extremely hazardous by Russian critics, as long as the Russian control the three most important fortifications along the San at Przemyśl, Jaroslavl and Sandomir, enabling them to throw back any German advance by cutting off advancing German.

On the other side of the Wisloka, in the district of Kielec and Radom, the German are trying to establish a connection between this movement and the Galician advance.

Nothing Decisive
Yet by Teutons.
London, May 19.—As the result of the latest German tactics, "a dispatch to the Mail from Petrograd," all that had been accomplished by the Russians in the Carpathians has been undone and the German advance is continuing the duration of the war.

If the German plans had succeeded completely, if General Potemkin or General von Mackensen, if the Austrians, who had been triumphant in an attempt to capture the city of Przemyśl, had been successful in capturing the city, the blow would have been terrible. Fortunately, as matters now stand, the German advance is not so serious.

Americans Are Blamed.
Captain Persell, writing in The Berlin Tageblatt regarding the United States note to Germany, says: "If, in spite of the German admiral's warning against entering the war, the United States had entered the war, the blame would be laid on the Americans. America guarantees that her ships will not be used as a base for attacking German shipping, when, in fact, she is doing just the opposite."

Austro-Germans, Continue Massed Attacks on Russians, Who Are Trying to Reform Behind the River San.

SAN HAS BEEN CROSSED BY THE TEUTONIC ALLIES

According to Berlin and Vienna—In Bukovina the Russians Are Reported to Have Broken the Austrian Extreme Right.

London, May 19.—The Austrian and German armies continue massed attacks against the Russians, who are attempting to form a new line behind the river San, both north and south of Przemyśl and west of the Vistula river, in southern Poland.

These attacks, according to Austrian and German reports, have met with their greatest success south of the Vistula, where the German allies have crossed the river and have occupied Przemyśl, on the eastern bank. They also claim to have captured positions southeast of the former Austrian fortress, while their heavy guns are keeping up a bombardment from the west.

In southern Poland their progress is not so marked. The Russians having taken the town of Lwow, in the Iravograd, which they brought into the field and checked the advance.

It is stated from Petrograd that the German and Austrian forces are using between thirty and forty army corps on the 200-mile front from Opatow, in Poland, to Kolomoia, in eastern Galicia. The German and Austrian forces are reported to have broken the Austrian extreme right and are reported again to have occupied Czernowit, the capital of Bukovina.

The sudden break in the weather in France, which had been bright and clear since the middle of Monday, but it has been resumed at several points. Between Arras and the coast and in the Vosges it appears as though the attacks have ended and that they are consolidating the ground gained and awaiting German counter attacks.

On the other side of the front, however, as the action must be continued for the purpose of relieving the pressure on the Russians.

PLANT TO DISREGARD WOODWARD'S VETO

Members of Two-Thirds
Majority of Council Decide
That Impeachment of the Mayor Is Not Necessary.

Leaders in the majority faction of general council who considered instituting impeachment proceedings against Mayor Woodward, following his action Monday in refusing to abide by the action of that body and conduct the election of a purchasing agent, Wednesday stated that another course had been victoriously agreed upon—disregarding his veto.

In other words, members of the two-thirds majority felt that impeachment is unnecessary, in that they have a sufficient number of votes to override at any time any act of the mayor which they may consider not for the best interests of the city.

It was the opinion around city hall that the mayor, by his act Monday, had entirely lost his hold on council and could not hope to receive any support from that body and that only a few members would follow him. Some members said they would not consider a trace of any more after the mayor openly defied the acts of a two-thirds majority that set aside his veto.

Will Pull Together.

The remnant of supporters the mayor has left in general council will not be able to secure the passage of any measure unless it meets with the approval of the majority faction, according to the general belief. The majority leaders state they are determined to pull together and secure all future improvements for the city by their own might and regardless of the mayor's approval or disapproval.

"The mayor knows he is in the wrong and has been whipped and I believe he will offer to hold the election for purchasing agent at the next meeting of council," said Councilman Charles W. Smith, one of the most active leaders of the faction opposing him. "We have tried in every way to work in harmony with him, but by picking quarrels with council and satisfying his own personal whims, he has created a condition of affairs that makes it impossible."

We have the necessary two-thirds to override vetoes and as long as we serve the city, we expect to stick together and secure the best results for our city in spite of the mayor."

Councilman Augustus T. Peacock, the newly elected member from the tenth ward, declared Wednesday that he was more than surprised at the manner in which the majority had been attempting to disregard council's action.

"I have discussed with many citizens the mayor's action Monday, and I am told that four-fifths of the people of Atlanta are of the opinion that the mayor should be impeached," said Councilman Peacock. "I am sure I can give a trial and there is a conviction I could not say whether or not I would vote for impeachment."

The mayor came in for another rap when the charter revision committee is considering a resolution to amend the charter so as to empower council to retire city officials after a certain time service, was asked to amend the measure so as to include the mayor and to make it effective at once. The committee offering this motion, however, withdrew it, saying it expressed his sentiments and was made as a jest.

City Attorney Mayson and Assistant City Attorney Ellis Wednesday sent to members of council a written opinion in which they ruled that the general council was within its legal rights in passing the amendment to the purchasing agent ordinance and that no illegal act had been committed by that body. The opinion states that the mayor did an illegal act in refusing to preside at the election Monday.

Will Consider Opinion.

This opinion will be considered formally at the next meeting of council and may be taken up at the special session to be held Monday when the bond committee's report will be received. The mayor, hearing of the action of the charter revision committee, in approving of two measures changing the methods of assessing property for paving and sewer improvements, announced that he had always been in favor of such changes and would support the measures.

This voluntary approval by the mayor is accepted by some to mean that he is attempting to declare a truce with council, since both measures were offered by Councilman Smith. The alderman said he would meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock to consider matters passed up to them by council. Whether any notice will be given to the mayor's act Monday is not known.

ATTACK CUSHING EFFORT TO MURDER

Captain of American Ship So Describes Dropping of Bombs by Germans—Stars and Stripes Flying.

Philadelphia, May 19.—The American tank steamer Cushing, attacked April 25 in the North sea by a German seaplane, which dropped three bombs, returned to port here today. Her captain, Lars Larson Herstad, submitted a report to her owners characterizing the attack as a "dastardly act, a deliberate attempt to sink an unarmed vessel and murder the members of the crew." A copy of the report was forwarded to the state department at Washington.

Had Pellagra; Is Now Well

Ringgold, La.—Mrs. A. C. Cotter, of this place, writes: "Will say that I am perfectly well and the happiest soul on earth. With every pellagra sufferer could know of your great remedy. I know how to appreciate health and sympathy with those that are not so blest as I am. Growing stronger, gaining weight, I feel that I am well of that horrible disease, and my heart is full of rejoicing. I feel that I have come out of a dense cloud into the blessed sunshine. God be for some good, and I feel that I have just begun to live."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. It is your duty to consult the successful Baugh. The symptoms—banded skin, sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucus and itching, indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baugh's big free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy that has at last been found. American Compounding Co., Box 2093, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure—(adv.)

to the forecable; and no one was hurt by the explosion of the one bomb which struck the ship.

Stars and stripes flying.

The attack occurred while the Cushing was about 25 miles from Antwerp. It was about 7 o'clock in the evening, but there was ample light from the stars and stripes flying at the masthead and from the searchlights. The ship was struck on the starboard side, about 100 feet from the bow, and the explosion was heard in letters 8 feet high.

On her return journey from Antwerp the Cushing grazed a floating mine in the North sea off the English coast. The mine exploded, and the ship was struck on the starboard side, about 100 feet from the bow, and the explosion was heard in letters 8 feet high.

Bombs Are Dropped.

When the ship was first noted by the German seaplane, it was several thousand feet in the air. The German seaplane, which dropped three bombs, returned to port here today. Her captain, Lars Larson Herstad, submitted a report to her owners characterizing the attack as a "dastardly act, a deliberate attempt to sink an unarmed vessel and murder the members of the crew."
